

Disclosure of Institutional Graduation and Transfer-out Rates

The overall graduation rate is also known as the "Student Right to Know" or IPEDS graduation rate. It tracks the progress of students who began their studies as full-time, first-time degree- or certificate-seeking students to see if they complete a degree or other award such as a certificate within 150% of "normal time" for completing the program in which they are enrolled.

Some institutions also report a transfer-out rate, which is the percentage of the full-time, first-time students who transferred to another institution.

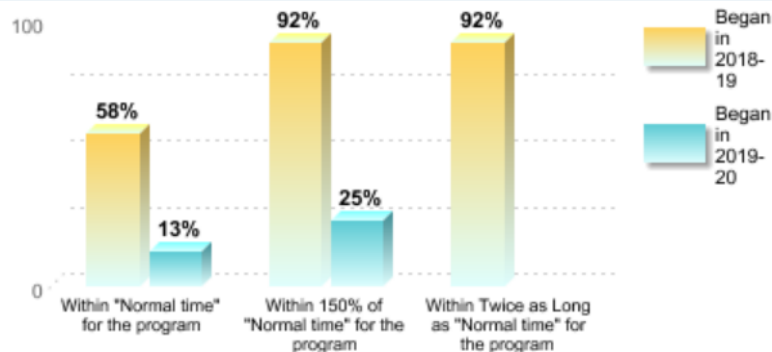

Note that not all students at the institution are tracked for these rates. Students who have already attended another postsecondary institution, or who began their studies on a part-time basis, are not tracked for this rate.

Context Notes:

Interpret data with caution. All of ICE's current programs are offered as part-time schedules (less than 24 clock hours per week). However, ICE offered a full-time program schedule during 2019-2020, with a very small number considered First-Time Full-Time. The Student Right-to-Know graduation rate, which counts only this small group of First-Time Full-Time students during this time period, was severely impacted by the COVID-19 emergency, and does not reflect the graduation rate for the vast majority of ICE's students.

The institution enrolled too few of such First-Time Full-Time students to disclose or report with confidence and confidentiality graduation rate information disaggregated by gender, by each major racial and ethnic subgroup, by recipients of a Federal Pell Grant, by recipients of a Federal Family Education Loan or a Federal Direct Loan who did not receive a Federal Pell Grant, and by recipients of neither a Federal Pell Grant nor a Federal Family Education Loan or a Federal Direct Loan.

This information is provided in compliance with the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended. The rates reflect the graduation and transfer-out status of students who enrolled during the referenced school year and for whom 150% of the normal time-to-completion has elapsed.
